TEARING DOWN THE CUSTOMARY PROFIT WALL. The GLOBE begins a sale of high-class suits, SATURDAY that will be a power in magnitude and bona fide bargains. Yes, we know it is not ordinary to sacrifice ordinary profits. We also are aware of the fact that no other store sells goods as low in price as we do at all times. But THE GLOBE is a store out of the ordinary kind; a store that has forged to the front, and will continue to go ahead on the great underlying principle of giving the people more for their money in the best and newest styles of apparel of any store in the Islands.

Read the $7.50, $10.00 and $15.50 News

ONE MIGHTY IMPORTANT FEATURE which we ask every man to bear in mind is that we are not only offering the very highest-class Special Suit Values in the city, but we offer plenty of them, so that no prospective customer will find after he gets here that he is obliged to pay a little more money to get just the pattern and style he wants.

THE LINES OF SUITS we show are undisputably the best made. They are authentic in every minor detail; distinction in the commanding features that point character and quality. Honest fabrics, shape-retaining construction. Gentle and pronounced patterns, as well as blacks and blues—every authorized Fall style. DEMOCRATS AFTER DUPLICATE VOTERS

Some Want Public Meeting To Protest Against Colonists

WILKINGTON SAYS FEDS ARE NOT BEHIND THIS

MOSSMAN SAYS FIFTY VOTERS HAVE REGISTERED BOTH AT AIEA AND ALSO IN HONOLULU

The Democrats claim that they are making fresh discoveries right along, showing that colonization and double registration has been carried on to an enormous extent.

"We are having men out investigating the matter," said Chairman Herbert Mossman of the Democratic County Committee this morning, "and we are getting together quite a lot of evidence."

"For instance we have found that about fifty Hawaiians were brought from town to Aiea to help McCandless and Jim Low in their fight against Archer. They were given employment on the plantation and registered there. I think that their registration there was all right as far as the thirty-day period of residence was concerned, but the trouble is that they also registered in the various precincts in Honolulu, where their real homes were. Most of these fellows registered under different names. For instance take a man called Sam Kane Kamaka. He would register in one place as Sam Kamaka and in the other as Kane Kamaka. A few of them, however, registered under the same name in both places."

"We are going to look out for these fellows on election day, although we do not expect to catch many of them. If one is caught, the rumor of it will spread like wildfire, and the rest will get cold feet, and will not come near the polls."

"I have not yet received any answer from the Civic Federation to my request asking that it assist us on election day to watch to insure a fair and square election. I have laid a lot of the evidence we have found before them, and I rather think that they will assist us."

D. L. Wilkinson, the acting head of the Civic Federation, was asked about this matter, but repeated his former statement, that the Federation had referred it to the committee on candidates, consisting of Frank McCandless

Senator Diekey, Doremus Scudder and himself, which still had it under consideration. He could not say what the committee would do, though it was his private opinion that the Governor and the Grand Jury were alive to the situation, and that it would not be necessary for the Federation to step in.

"I have, however, heard considerable talk about calling a public meeting to consider what action could be taken in regard to this colonization business. Mind you, this is not a Civic Federation scheme; neither the Federation nor myself have anything to do with it. I was approached by three old residents here, who were Republicans but not members of the Federation, who talked of calling a meeting of citizens to place themselves on record as being against colonization and similar schemes."

"As I understand it, dead men have been voted before here, but colonization is now to this community. Of course I have seen considerable of this kind of thing done in other places, but this is a very conservative community which does not take much to innovations. I don't know if the meeting will come off. I have nothing to do with it, and I don't see what it really could do in the matter."

DREW A RAZOR BUT GOT OFF WITH FINE

E. Parker is a cultured gentleman, sah, just a plain American coon of the common garden variety. Consequently he carries a razor, which no gentleman of his complexion should be without.

But the law frowns upon the practice. It is considered unhealthful. So when Ebenezer or Elias or Ezekial, or whatever the "E" stands for, was indiscreet enough to draw his favorite weapon on a group of soldiers in Twelfth yesterday, he got into trouble. Mounted Police Officer Lynch found him backed up against a fence passing back at the soldiers. One hand was behind him and in it was an open razor.

But when the case came up in court this morning, Parker was let off on the graver charge and merely soaked for a fine of ten dollars and costs for being drunk. Perhaps the Judge thought that the negro couldn't help carrying a razor. He's boy that way.

Officer Apana gathered in a bunch of eleven Japanese gamblers yesterday afternoon by a very neat trick. Disguised as a Japanese rice field laborer he succeeded in getting past the guards and into the room where the Japanese were wooing fortune at 7-11. He bagged the whole bunch besides grabbing a pair of dice and four-bits in silver as evidence.

The Japs were released on $6 bail per Jap, which they preferred to forfeit rather than stand trial in Police Court. When their cases were called this morning many a Jap was in sight. Harry Welch and John McHugh each contributed $3 and costs toward the maintenance of the County today for trying to drink all the booze in town.

TREES PLANTED BY SCHOOL

(Continued from Page 1) around in an outer circle. Last year's class planted a breadfruit tree and this year a kukui was chosen, that being the only indigenous tree not represented in the grounds. The tree was planted in the front yard of the school.

At the various other schools of town, including the kindergartens, little trees were planted and some short program rehearsed by the pupils.

The steamer Enterprise, which towed the Intrepid to Hilo, lost two blades of her propeller shortly before arriving. She is expected to leave Hilo for Honolulu this evening if the heavy swells prevailing there do not interfere with her discharging her cargo.
